

About Us

THE NEW MODEL.

How do you connect with designers in a society of saturation? Be relevant.

Designer Pages has one mission: to help manufacturers market online like they never thought possible. Through mastery of digital media, social media and online dialogue, we connect manufacturers with designers innovatively and efficiently. The result is relevance.

For designers, out-of-date product catalogs, irrelevant Google results, and countless manufacturer websites are inefficient means of finding products. But a comprehensive, real-time web solution makes the designer's life easier and gives manufacturers a better shot at placing their products in the eyes of decision-makers.

At Designer Pages we help the industry innovate, and we help architects and designers work. Now we can help you.

DesignerPages.com Premium Listings

GET YOUR PRODUCTS SEEN WHEN THEY'RE IN NEED.

Nearly 50,000 design professionals use DesignerPages.com each month to find and specify products. But with 150,000 products listed on Designer Pages, it's becoming increasingly difficult for your products to be seen.

What can you do about it? Premium Listings ensure that your products appear at the top of results anytime products similar to yours are searched for. What does this mean? Whenever a designer is looking for the type of products you offer, they see you – not your competitor.

3rings: A Product Blog for A+D

SEND DESIGNERS HERE, THERE OR ANYWHERE.

3rings.designerpages.com is the Designer Pages editorial platform dedicated to discovering and sharing the latest and greatest products in architecture and design. vDesigners use this resource to stay up-to-date on the hottest new products through HD video interviews, high quality images, and curated content.

What does that mean for you?

Through 3rings, we can send designers directly to your site, or any site. It's an easy way to get the constant flow of designer traffic you want, and need. The more you invest, the more traffic you get. But the best part is, we can work with any budget.

Some games to play:

- Test your creative. Rotate different ads to compare their success over time. Use this knowledge to improve your print placements and future web campaigns.
- Geo-target and time it right. Sometimes timing and location are key. Reach who you want, when you want them.
- Change the message. Promote a product. Promote your brand. Promote an event. Send them where it makes sense.

Know what works – and what doesn't.

We're sure you're in at least a couple print publications. How do you gauge the success of any campaigns? How do you measure the return on your investment? How do you improve these numbers? These are some of the hardest questions to answer. But we can help.
